Employee Handbook

Nimbus Technologies Pvt. Ltd. · Version 2026 · Effective 1 January 2026

Sample document for testing. Nimbus Technologies is a fictional company.

1. Purpose and Scope

This handbook sets out the general terms of employment at Nimbus Technologies: employment types, probation, working hours, dress code, grades, local conveyance and employee records. Specific topics such as leave, travel, work from home and holidays are covered by their own policies.

2. Employment Types

Permanent employees are on the company payroll with no fixed end date and are covered by all company policies.

Contract staff are engaged for a fixed term or project through a written contract. They are covered by the terms of their individual contract and are not covered by company policies on leave, work from home, allowances or grade changes unless their contract says otherwise. Contract staff follow this handbook's rules on working hours, dress code and conduct.

Interns are engaged for a fixed internship period and receive a monthly stipend. Their leave and working arrangements are set out in their internship letter.

3. Probation

Every new permanent employee serves a probation period of 6 months from the date of joining.

At the end of probation, the reporting manager reviews performance and either confirms the employee or extends probation once, by up to 3 months. The decision is shared in writing through the HR portal.

During probation, either side may end employment with 15 days' notice. After confirmation, the notice period is 60 days.

4. Working Hours

The standard working week is Monday to Friday, 9 hours a day including a 1-hour lunch break, which is 40 working hours a week.

Core hours are 10:30 AM to 4:30 PM IST. All employees must be available during core hours, whether working from the office or from home.

5. Flexible Timing

Employees may start work at any time between 8:00 AM and 11:00 AM, provided they complete 9 hours in the day and are available during core hours. The chosen start time should be agreed with the reporting manager.

Work on weekends or public holidays is only by prior approval from the reporting manager and earns compensatory off as described in the Holiday Policy. Overtime is not paid to employees in grade L4 and above.

6. Dress Code

The everyday dress code in the office is business casual: collared shirts, blouses, trousers, chinos, skirts, kurtas and closed or formal footwear. Jeans are allowed if neat.

Fridays are casual days; t-shirts and sports shoes are allowed.

Formal business wear is required when meeting clients, at external events and at interviews conducted on behalf of the company.

Shorts, flip-flops, and clothing with offensive slogans are not allowed in the office. Exceptions for medical, religious or cultural reasons are granted on request to the HR business partner.

7. Grades and Grade Changes

Each role is assigned a grade from L1 to L6, and grades above L6 for senior leadership. The grade decides travel class, allowances and approval limits.

Grade changes happen through the annual promotion cycle in April or through a mid-year promotion approved by the department head. A grade change takes effect from the 1st of the month after it is approved. The new travel class, allowances and approval limits then apply automatically from that date; the employee does not need to apply for them. Travel booked before the effective date follows the old grade.

8. Local Conveyance

Taxi, auto-rickshaw and app-cab fares for official work within the employee's base city, such as client visits or meetings at another office, are reimbursed at actuals up to Rs. 1,000 per day, against receipts or app invoices, claimed in the HR portal within 30 days.

Daily travel between home and the usual office is not reimbursed. During outstation travel, local transport is covered by the daily allowance under the Travel Policy and is not claimed separately. A cab home after 10:00 PM following approved late work is reimbursed at actuals.

9. Employee Records and Profile Updates

Employees can update their address, phone number, emergency contact and bank details directly in the HR portal. Changes to bank details take effect from the next payroll cycle.

Corrections to the date of joining, grade, designation or name must be requested from the HR business partner with supporting documents, such as the offer letter or appointment letter. HR updates the record within 5 working days. Employees should check their profile after joining and report any error within 30 days.

Benefit eligibility is worked out from the profile, so a wrong date of joining or grade can show the wrong benefits. Once the record is corrected, any benefit that was missed because of the error is applied from the correct date.

10. Benefits and Who Is Eligible

Health insurance: permanent employees, their spouse and up to two children are covered for Rs. 5,00,000 a year from the date of joining, including during probation.

Casual and sick leave: available from the date of joining, pro-rata in the first year, as set out in the Leave Policy.

Earned leave: available after 6 months of continuous service, as set out in the Leave Policy.

Work from home, the home office setup allowance and the monthly internet allowance: available once probation is completed, as set out in the Work From Home Policy.

Wellness allowance: available once probation is completed (see section 11).

Learning allowance: up to Rs. 20,000 a year for job-related courses and certifications, available after 1 year of continuous service, with the reporting manager's approval before enrolling.

Gratuity: paid on leaving after 5 years of continuous service, as required by law.

Official travel reimbursement and local conveyance: available to all employees from the date of joining.

Contract staff and interns receive only the benefits written in their contract or internship letter. They are not covered by the wellness or learning allowances unless their contract says so.

11. Wellness Allowance

Confirmed employees can claim up to Rs. 1,000 a month towards a gym, yoga, swimming or sports club membership, or fitness classes. Claims are made once a quarter in the HR portal with the membership receipt.

Unused wellness allowance does not carry forward to the next quarter. Fitness equipment, supplements and diet plans are not covered.

12. Checking Your Benefits

Employees can see the benefits they are currently eligible for under My Benefits in the HR portal. The list is based on the date of joining, grade and employment type in the employee's profile.

Questions about a benefit that is missing or looks wrong should go to the HR business partner.

13. Emergency Absence

If you cannot come to work because of an emergency, such as sudden illness, an accident or a family emergency, follow these steps.

Step 1: Inform your reporting manager by phone or official chat as early as possible, and no later than 10:00 AM on the day of absence.

Step 2: Apply for the leave in the HR portal within 2 working days of returning to work, choosing sick leave for illness or casual leave for other emergencies.

Step 3: For sickness of 3 or more consecutive days, submit a medical certificate within 7 days of returning, as required by the Leave Policy. For the death of an immediate family member, apply for bereavement leave instead.

If your leave balance runs out, the extra days are treated as unpaid leave.
